

STREET SMARTS

We know BUST readers have a passion for fashion, so when we asked you to prove it by sending us pics of your best outfits, we knew we wouldn't be disappointed. Here, some of our fave fashionistas prove they've got miles of style
 COMPILED BY LISA BUTTERWORTH

San Diego, CA

This outfit is a vintage little-Dutch-girl apron dress. My style is very girly and feminine. I love clothes that are vintage and one-of-a-kind. Lynn VanBrocklin, 27, fashion designer, www.lynnsrags.com

Brooklyn, NY

To me, style is being able to make something out of nothing, to create a whole out of disparate and surprising parts. The secret is that anything can be fabulous in the right context. JB Hardy, 28, program assistant at Columbia University and fashion designer, www.gremalkin.com

St. Catharines, ON

My style is quite simple and chic. I have the ability to mix old items with new and make them look great. My personal style is awesome, because I'm not afraid to take risks or stand out in a crowd. Ivy Prosper, 34, assistant buyer and freelance writer

San Francisco, CA

My look is a mix between vintage and modern. I find pieces anywhere and everywhere. I once pulled a dress out of the trash, washed it up, and now it's one of my favorites! Rebekah Formica, 26, singer

Vancouver, BC

A mishmash of scarves and lace from our mothers' attics, shirts and vests stolen from our boyfriends, and cheap finds with bright colors and tacky floral prints, our style is all about spending little and sharing—perfect for frugal musicians! Left: Suzy Sabla, 19, student and musician; right: Katy Horsley, 28, musician
